

SPANISH FOR BEGINNERS

Hola a Todos

Spanish is a world language, second only to English in the number of people who speak it. It is the first language in a greater number of countries than any other language. The beginner's course introduces the student to basic spoken Spanish. Some aspects of Spanish and Latin American culture and history will also be included. It is suitable for beginners and those who already have a little knowledge of the language and perfect for travellers

Did you know that learning a second language has many cognitive benefits?

- Brainpower boost - learning another language trains your brain to deal with new levels of complexity and absorb new patterns.
- Improved memory - using your brain to learn a new language can improve your memory – it's a workout for your brain.
- It helps with multi-tasking - if you can jump from one language to another, chances are you can type, talk on the phone and eat your lunch at the same time.
- It could delay dementia - a range of studies confirm that people that are bilingual developed dementia later than people that only speak one language.
- Improves your first language - yes that's right, learning a second language can actually improve your native tongue!
